

B Minor. Smith's Divine Hymns, 1794.

Air trad. English; arr. R. W. Hall, 2012.

1. The man that views his guilt and sin With clear en - light - en'd eyes, With hum - ble, low sub -
He sees how vile a wretch he's been, And down in dust he lies.

2. But yet he can't de - spair of grace, He wrest - les with his God, My ar - dent cries shall
And begs his pre - cious soul might taste The mer - its of his blood.

3. The man that's bro't to such a case, God won't his suit de - ny; The one in three, and
But he will give him sav - ing grace, And lift his soul on high.

mis - sion 'tis His soul is bro't to say, That God the sov - reign pot - ter is, And he but worth - less clay.

still as - cend, While I have pow'r to speak, And if I per - ish in the end, I'll die be - neath thy feet.

three in one, All glo - ry is their due, From be - ings far a - bove the sun, And hu - man crea - tures too.
